

Bicycle Wagga Wagga – Ride Report

Getaway to Ganmain

13-14 May 2006 – Bruce Hackett

Fourteen intrepid riders set off for the 62 km ride to Ganmain for what once again proved to be a delightful “weekend with Marksy”. The weather was glorious (there was a tail wind all the way) and the hills (were there any?) were insignificant.

Currawarna proved a “rustic” little village where Geoff’s new kettle boiled in minutes, where the frankfurts were really hot and the rolls really fresh – just the thing after a morning’s ride. It was great to have Jan ride on to Ganmain with us while Geoff drove the support vehicle, while at the Sports Club we were joined by Lynne and Cheryl. The ladies were able to enjoy the socialising and camping and have vowed to oil up their cycles for our next outing. At the club we were treated like royalty (almost) and Stephen was able to give the veterans a lesson in card playing.

Sunday morning was damp and foggy but not enough to dampen the spirits of the riders, while Marksy’s Egg and Bacon Rolls were a gourmet’s delight. On the homeward ride Stephen proved he could cycle as well as play cards, and Glenn Grosvenor joined us for another delicious Millwood Morning Tea. From Millwood it was “downhill all the way” with Reg, Alex and Peter leading, and the party terminated with lunch at Scribbles. Geoff and Jan were the perfect host and hostess and their work is much appreciated. Marksy has vowed that there will be another trip next year but the destination is still a mystery.

The happy campers photographed in the bright sun typical of the weekend.